SENIOR CLASS

Emerson High School

Gary, Indiana

THE nucleus of every great nation's prosperity has been their ships. Triremes, gondolas, galleons, clippers and schooners, each suited to the distinguishing characteristics of their country, climate, and era, came into existence, served their purpose, and passed away. Now a newer era has dawned, rough, coarse, productive, and has spawned the ore-boat.

To the squat, blunt ore-boat, which carries Gary's products to all corners of the world, bringing back wealth and happiness, and to the just as productive days of high school life, the Scrapbook Staff dedicates this volume.

FEATURES

Seniors will want to remember the following names: Bell, Benscoter, Brasaemle, Carlberg, Harrison, Heyburn, Holliday, Lampe, Lull, Lortz, Newton, Paul, Peters, Pickard, Sayers, Spaulding, Stephens, Talbot, Warren, and Warrum. June, 1928, to ?????

Remember Ray Dauer, baby of the team?

Basketball, 1927-28.

Remember Mr. Spaulding and his Grapevines?

Remember the past educational week programs we have had? When first started we were little bits of Freshmen and our displays and exhibitions were "put on" in downtown store windows. Then for the next two years we had great long parades with banners and floats. Remember? How could one forget after walking (?) miles in them! Then, our Senior year displays and exhibitions were exhibited in the new Memorial Gym. Bigger and better every year. That's the Class of '28.

Then, too, remember the dreadful strike? And the strikers, and strike leaders and the "scabs"? We'll not soon forget that, will we?

DRUCILLA MILLER.
LUCIA BEDDOW.

Class Will

We, the Senior Class of Emerson High School, having completed our career in a blaze of glory, desirous of being remembered by posterity, and being of sound mind, memory and understanding, do hereby make, decree, and publish this, our last will and testament in manner as follows:

FIRST: We do decree that we, as a body, be cremated in the blasts of our own hot air, in Gary Memorial Auditorium.

SECOND: We do decree that all unjust debts which we have incurred in the course of our career, either to our faculty, our schoolmates, or to each other, be paid in full to the last "kopeck," that our ashes may rest in the same peace we have been accustomed heretofore to enjoy.

THIRD: As to such estate as we have purloined during our sojourn in Emerson High School, we do devise and bequeath to our beloved Alma Mater, and to all such as may enter her portals in after years, the following bequests, to-wit:

Item:—The beloved memories and fond associations which cluster around the present edifice of learning, including the elaborate and mervelous works of art, which we leave behind, on the various articles of furniture.

Item:—The clarion sound of the bell, which almost human, brings us relief, misery, or fire-drills.

Item:—Our beloved faculty of all shapes and sizes (including the office force) the only one of its kind because of its democratic attitude toward all Seniors.

Item:—The drinking fountains choicely inlaid with chewing gum.

Item:—The morning dash for classes from the first corridor at 8:19.

Item:—The smoking rule, to be obeyed by others as faithfully as it has been by us.

Item:—The meeting place down by the foot-warmers for the new Seniors, and other loafers.

Individually we bequeath the following:

Item:—Sam Chase leaves his "sax-appeal" to Nelson McCollem and Von Hall. Marge Kraynak, yelling as usual, insists that her talent along that line be left to Ruth Patton. Bob Davis leaves to his sister, Sara, his beautiful blonde curls. Marge Sullivan, Lenora Brown, and Laura Boyton will their capacity for "sticking together" to Virginia McLaughlin, Jane Ransel, and Beth Owens. "Swede" Hedman bequeaths his well worn Hi-Y jacket to Ross Bain, if Ross can get it from the girl who happens to be wearing it at the time. Ollie Huminsky, Drucilla Miller, Betty Lucas, and Marge Kraynak will their ability to "trip the light fantastic" in Spice and Variety to Chuck Funkey and Al Gorman. Lucia Beddow, Lois Jacob, and Lydia Stentz leave their wonderful adhesion to the South Chicago glue works.

Dwight Hockensmith and Milton Rosen give their power and efficiency to "shift scenery" to John Van Liew and Don Henderson.

Zella Mae Spencer and Ray Dauer will their straight "A" report cards to Alberta Snowden and Ethel Comstock.

Joe Loftis, Elio Largura, John Krueger, Harold Avery, Max Summers, Victor Marovich, Jay Kelly, and Glen Waser leave their efficiency in carrying the old pigskin to the would-be varsity football stars.

Jack Keener bequeaths his dilapidated megaphone and husky voice to Stewart Martin.

Grace Laue and Reva Goldman wish to bestow their combined heights to Mary Bertha or Ruth Longacre, who would probably appreciate it more.

Ray Dauer, Louis Harmon, Ray Altenhof and Glen Waser leave their ability to "slish" the basketball to any or all of the lucky survivors of basketball tryouts.

Ann McLelland, Kay Oglesby, Dee Jackson, and Fay Laurent give their "drags" with the faculty to Louise Stentz and Francis Johnson.

Abe Marcovich, with both arms full of Spice and Variety girls, has decided that James Newsom can be the "E" editor next year.

Leon Nelson leaves his time-and-record smashing high school career to Glen Verplank, if he can catch him.

Faye Cheadle gives her naturally (?) curly hair and blooming complexion to Maxine Bitner.

Moose Kincaid wills his undescribable "It" to Dave Templin.

Helen Cooper bestows her ability to "hang on" to Leon Stanford on Isobelle Hall to do the same with her boy friend.

Paul Nebe gives his nice shiny sword to anyone who will promise not to cut his fingers with it.

Junior Eshelman desires that all swimming honors that he has acquired be left to Harvey McQuarrie.

Edee Jenkins leaves her authority of monitorship to Ruth DeLong if she will use it in the proper manner.

Gene Kirtland leaves his collegiate Ford to the mercy of the traffic cops.

Ernie Gardner and Dorothy McNamara give their happy married life and any unbroken dishes to Clyde Lewis and Josephine Vincent.

Harry Lewis desires that his ability to "kid" the faculty be given to Sidney Rothman and Harry Hosmer.

Jean Maxon, John Hennessey, Edith Jenkins, Shelby Carson, Marsile Lambert, Dorothy Malone, and Clella Conley leave their "colyum" space in Flue Dust to any fortunate person who is capable of making it.

Eddie Pearson leaves his ability to produce—well, you can almost tell it's music—to Charlotte Morris.

Maxie Summers leaves Virginia Benoit to Ernest LePell, who was so "nize" to her in the Junior Play.

DRUCILLA MILLER,
LUCIA BEDDOW.

JUNIORS

Junior Class History

I started on my career at Emerson High School in the year 1925. After passing through the usual routine, I gained for myself the title of Junior Class. My history for the past year, I think, is worth writing about.

Ross Bain was elected to boss me through the year with Ina Whitby as his helper. Dorothy Aldridge was given the task of keeping my diary, and Eleanor Smith and James Newsom were to hoard my sheckels. These helpers worked very hard, but some fell by the way, and I had to appoint Harry Hosmer to be the boss's helper, and Sylvia Sandberg to be the keeper of the story of my private life.

The class rings were my first work. The ring committee did a good job of picking the rings, and many were sold. My next achievement was the class play. Miss Paul picked "The Beggar on Horseback" for our presentation. Then came the Junior Benefit show. The picture was "West Point" and the ticket sale gave me some much needed aid for the Prom.

The Prom came. It is the one dance of the year where a good time is had by all every year, and this year was no exception.

As I think over the glories of the year I realize how much it means to have a good sponsor to keep me on the right track, and we had a good one, Miss Daniel. Thus, amid the honor and glory of a year well spent, I go home and sleep till next September, when duty will call and I shall have to come back to my work of fooling the teachers into thinking I know something when I don't.

SOPHOMORES

Sophomore Class History

Once upon a midday dreary, when the school was well aweary,
Of our faint and fitful efforts to do manfully our part,
While we still were fumbling, suddenly amid our stumbling,
Way inside each felt a tapping, tapping in his little heart,
"You are now a Sophomore!"

Forth we called our strongest for to lead us on this longest
And adventurous a year, while Miss Newton watched o'er all.
Well do we remember on a day in bleak November,
When we gave a play of Rinehart's, Rinehart's "Bab" in our school hall.
And again Time's voice so distant muttered in his dreary call—
"Safe so far, Oh! Sophomore!"

Then we all our efforts bent, then we all our money spent,
On a dance to be most gorgeous of all Sophomores gone by.
In a gym enhancing, laughter there among us glancing,
We thought life was all for dancing, dancing 'neath a silver sky,
But the voice of Time so hoary from his height did coldly cry—
"'Tis illusion, Sophomore."

Yet our faces still beguiling life to look upon us smiling,
Sought to gain its favor lasting thus to boost us evermore,
But our memories are crowded and our happiness is shrowded,
By the thought that 'tis that each shall be a Sophomore,
Still 'tis best to be advancing than just stay a Sophomore,
Once we are but never more.

FRESHMEN

Freshman Class History

The "Spirit of Emerson" hopped off at 8:15 on September 6, 1927, on the transatlantic flight from "Freshman Year" to "Sophomore Year" over the "Ocean of Study." On this trip, the "Spirit of Emerson" carried 316 high school students as passengers.

Bruce Falconer and Kathleen Donavon had charge of the mechanical work of the machine, while Coach Lowell Sparks acted as pilot.

For the amusement of the passengers, "The Cap and Dagger Club" was organized, and many activities were carried on. Numerous contests were held during the trip. Among the first was the Music Memory Contest in which Ruth Berkowitz, a passenger, took part. Laura Ralph and Eileen McAllister, passengers, were chosen to represent the "Spirit of Emerson" in the Discussion Contest which was held on Friday, March 16, 1928.

On December 13 and 14, 1927, the "Spirit of Emerson" landed at the Emerson airport and the passengers attended the performance of the annual "Spice and Variety." Some of the passengers were happy to help do their share towards its success.

"Seventeen," a play by Booth Tarkington, was given by the "Cap and Dagger Club" on April 20, 1928.

During this eventful trip, plans were made concerning the presentation of "Grape Vines" as the graduation gift of the passengers of the "Spirit of Emerson" to the school. The actual planting, however, was not done until June, 1928.

So with the many regrets that a very delightful trip was ended but with joyous anticipation of the next flight from "Sophomore Year" to "Junior Year," the 316 passengers alighted from the "Spirit of Emerson" June 25, 1928, as "Sophomore Year."

To start the season off with a bang, the Golden Tornado made Lindbloom, of Chicago, bow to a 13-0 score. Lindbloom, one of the Tornadoes' greatest rivals, came to Gary with determination to conquer Emerson, but did not threaten the supremacy of the Tornado.

In the second game of the season, Emerson beat East Chicago with a 19-6 victory. This is the first time Emerson has been scored on for five years by an Indiana team.

In the muddiest game of the season, Muncie, Emerson's down-state rivals, held the Tornadoes to one lone touchdown.

In the fourth game of the season Emerson, over-confident, went to Mishawaka and received a setback of being held to a tie, 0-0.

The fifth game brought Emerson back to triumph over Wabash with a 33-0 score. Ernie Gardner's flashy open field running was an outstanding feature.

Lady-luck deserted Emerson in the Mooseheart game, and took Illinois by the arm to lead them to a victory of 7-0 over Emerson.

Since the Tornadoes failed to consider the Hammond squad's serious threat, they were held to a tie of 6-6 in the windswept gridiron of the Industrial High in Hammond.

Still in the rough from their tie with Hammond, Emerson was defeated by their arch-rivals, Froebel, by a score of 22-14. Hollander's thirty-yard run for a score, and Avery's eighty-yard run went uncounted.

In the last game of the season, Emerson held the upper hand through the entire game with South Bend, and defeated the Bears by a score of 9-0. Behind perfect interference Waser galloped sixty-seven yards to a touchdown through the entire South Bend squad.

Starting the season with only a sprinkling of veteran material remaining from last year's regional champions. Coach Brasaemle early appeared to be well on the way toward a repetition of last year's success.

Whiting and Mishawaka were disposed of by decisive scores. and then came the first of the defeats from Washington. The Norse followed with victories over Elkhart and LaPorte before bowing to Jefferson of Lafayette. Froebel was toppled by a top-heavy score and Hammond, Goshen and Horace Mann were accorded the same fate before Muncie invaded the Steel City to eke out a two-point victory.

Plymouth, Michigan City, Valparaiso, Froebel and South Bend were the victims of the Norse machine before Washington again proved itself a better club by reason of a two-point victory. Valparaiso and Central of Fort Wayne were defeated in the closing games of the regular schedule. Merrillville was no barrier in the first round of the sectional tournament. Horace Mann provided considerable more opposition than had been expected and Froebel proved more of a barrier than the Norse could hurdle in one season.

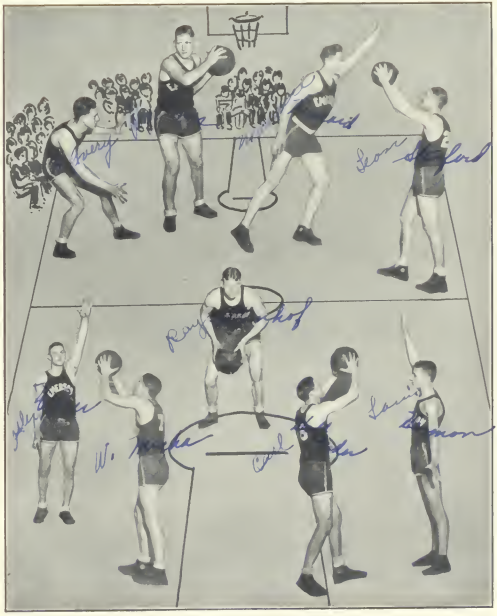

With the defeat by Froebel in the sectional tournament the Norse packed away their short pants to await the opening of another season. Close of the season left the Norse with a seasonal and tournament record of 17 victories and 5 defeats. Second place in the Northern Indiana High School Conference basketball race was won by the Norsemen with a "Big 15" record of 14 wins and 2 defeats, both of the latter being administered by Washington of East Chicago.

Track

Although greatly weakened by the loss of a great many stars of last year's squad, Emerson's track team has done well in the season of 1928. Those that were left from the 1927 squad are: Captain Krieg, Sommers, Fleming, Metzler, Milter, Rogers, Avery, and Lagura. Some of the other boys who have done good work this season are: Hayden, Swartzell, Sandback, Johnson, Gerametta, Saunders, Marowich, Mislen, Waite, Wilson, T. Sommers, Kincaid, Bain, and Mitchell.

In response to Coach Brasaemle's call, twenty-five men reported for baseball. In spite of the fact that only a few of last year's championship team remains, the outlook is bright, as the rookies look capable of filling up the gaps. Marty Schewanick will again pilot the nine to a hoped-for championship.

Hockey

The opening of the hockey season was of interest to all, this year. This was, probably, due to the fact that the first game of the tourney, which was played by the Junior and Senior Teams, was staged at Gleason Field, preceding the Emerson-Mooseheart football game, on Saturday, October 29, 1927. The four class teams, coached by Miss Reynolds, succeeded in making this year's tourney a very exciting one.

The members of the class teams were:

FRESHMAN—Olga Nickolick, captain; Dorothy Preuss, manager; Margaret Baboo, Marjorie Curtiss, Alice Keely, Thelma Kewley, Sletta Kilojaike, Grace Kirtland, Frances Leninger, Elizabeth Lieber, Doris Rosen, Mary Triplett, Gweneth Winter, Janetta Wood.

JUNIOR—Eileen Bond, captain; Mildred Thompson, manager; Florence Sensom, Margaret Black, Florence Davis, Helen Jackson, Mary Kokos, Geneva LaPell, Edna Lindstrom, Sophie Milanovich, Elizabeth Stamper, Eleanor Strophe, Evangeline Vinovich, Marian Vicker.

MINOR SPORTS

It is worth while to mention that teams did excellent work in the minor sports such as: Volleyball, Captainball, Swimming, Baseball, and Tennis.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

A Girls' Athletic Association, to be known as G. A. A., has been organized this year. Its membership consists of girls who have made athletic teams which compete in the inter-class sports. Each member works for an E. H. S. monogram. An organization of this sort has been attempted several times but has never succeeded; however, this year's plans have a promising future.

Spice and Variety

December thirteenth and fourteenth will be written down in the books of history as the dates on which the best Spice and Variety production ever given was presented to unsurpassing audiences. There were in all fifteen acts, some of them being acrobatic performances, some musical reviews, some dialogues, and others one-act plays. The acts on the program ran as follows:

1. The Spice of Life.
2. The Instrumental Trio.
3. Don't Forget the Governor.
4. Salt and Pepper Sisters.
5. Fun at the Show.
6. The Campus Trio.
7. A Little Bit of Everything.
8. Flower's Midnight Frolic.

14. Aw Gwan!
15. Prep School Capers.

Out of the fifteen, six of them were chosen as the best acts. After having combined the six into three splendid acts, they were presented at the Palace Theatre with much success.

Much of the success was due to the efforts of Miss Harrison, Mrs. Bell, Miss Paul, Miss Sayers, Miss Viant, Miss Greenhill, Miss Heimburg and Miss Lull.

Mikado

The first opera (since "Martha" was presented way back in '21 or '22) was given February 23 and 24 under the capable leadership of Miss Grace Sayers. The production was Gilbert's & Sullivan's "Mikado."

The story goes thus: Nanki Pooh, who is supposedly a wandering minstrel, is madly in love with Yum Yum, but to no avail because Yum Yum is to be married to Ko Ko, her guardian. Nanki Pooh is about to kill himself, after becoming desperate, when interrupted by Ko Ko, who is Lord High Executioner. He tells Nanki Pooh that he will let him marry Yum Yum, if in a month's time he will be willing to be killed by him, as he had killed no one, and the Mikado had ordered his head to be taken if he had not executed someone within the month. Just before Nanki Pooh and Yum Yum are to be married they discover that there is a law which reads, "When a man is beheaded his wife must be buried alive." Yum Yum refuses to marry Nanki Pooh under these conditions.

When the time comes for Ko Ko to kill Nanki Pooh he can not bear to do it and so makes out an affidavit of Nanki Pooh's death and then tells Nanki Pooh that he can marry Yum Yum if he will only leave the country.

When the Mikado arrives he reads of the execution of Nanki Pooh, who is really his son, who had left his home to travel. He then tells Ko Ko that he has killed the Heir Apparent, which means that Ko Ko must be put to death. Before Nanki Pooh and Yum Yum leave on their honeymoon, Ko Ko tells Nanki Pooh that he must come to life again in order to free him. Yum Yum and Nanki Pooh appear before the Mikado and are forgiven.

Boy's Chorus

The Emerson Music Department has just finished one of the most successful seasons in its history. The bands and orchestra won the Northern Indiana Contests. The grade and high school music memory each took first place in their division. Under the auspices of the Gary Public Schools' Music Department, Kathryn Witwer, grand opera star and Emerson graduate, was engaged to sing at the Memorial Auditorium.

A new Orthophonic Victrola has been purchased from the funds of the department, and the success of the Music Memory team is a result of its usefulness.

The Boys Concert Band

Continuing their success of the past years, the Emerson Concert Band was well started on its way to the national championship, by taking first place in the Northern Indiana Band Contest. The band has received new uniforms and they have made a marked improvement in the appearance of our boys. Much of the success of our band is due to the unfailing labors of Mr. Warren and Mr. Hendrickson, as well as the never-say-die spirit of the band boys.

Springing from almost absolute obscurity, the Emerson Girls Concert Band confirmed the faith of Mr. Warren by taking first place in the Northern Indiana Band Contest. A noted improvement may be seen in the playing of the band, the interest seems to have revived, due to Mr. Warren's and Mr. Hendrickson's untiring efforts. The Girls' Band will go to Elkhart to compete in the state finals.

Orchestra

For the first time in the history the Emerson Orchestra won the Northern Indiana Music Contest. However, this has been expected, as the school has eagerly watched the progress of the orchestra. Under the direction of Mr. Jaehne, a new leader, many fine musicians have been developed. Great things are expected of the orchestra in the future, as it is entered in the state contest at Elkhart, Indiana.

Auditorium League Contestants

Lake County Contestants

Besides participating in the Auditorium League activities, Faye Cheadle and Sydney Hyman were chosen to represent Emerson in the Froebel-Emerson Declamatory Contest and the Lake County Contest. A distinct revival in Auditorium League activities has become apparent this year.

Poetry and Music Memory

POETRY MEMORY

This year, Emerson was very well represented in the Poetry Memory Contest. Due to the untiring efforts of the training teacher, Miss Lortz and the members of the team, Emerson secured first place.

Emerson entered three teams in the Gary Music Memory Contest and was fortunate in securing first place in the Senior High School Division. This entitled her to enter the team in the In and About Chicago Music Memory Contest. There we won first place. This was accomplished only through the conscientious work of the music teachers, Miss Viant, Miss Sayers, and Miss Greenhill, and the team. The team was composed of Elizabeth Buchsbaum, Charles Seamon, Olga Nikolich, Ruth Diamond, and Virginia Benoit. The substitutes were Ruby Stephenson and Mary Catherine Taylor, who had both been members of the Gary team.

VIRGINIA BENOIT.

MUSIC MEMORY

Emerson Board of Control

Under the guidance of Mr. Carlberg, the Board of Control has become more than a mere body. Among the several of its noteworthy accomplishments this year are the establishment of an eight hour monitor system and the strict enforcement of the traffic rules. The board meets every other Monday in Room 208 and is composed of the President and Vice-President, from the school at large, two representatives from each class, the two yell leaders, the captains of the Varsity teams, the chairmen of the committees and the head monitor. The head monitor acts as prosecuting attorney when the traffic violators are brought before the board, but has no vote in the proceedings.

Raymond Altenhof is President of the Board, Carl Hollander is Vice-President and Ollie Huminsky is Secretary. The Senior Class is represented by Ray Dauer and Drucilla Miller, the Juniors by Laurence Coulehan and Ruth DeLong, the Sophomores by Pearl Burnam and Conrad Yuill, and the Frosh have elected Bruce Faulkener and Kathleen Donovan.

Board of Control Committees

Emerson R. O. T. C.

It is to be doubted if any other subject has entailed more work, greater exactness and attention to details than the military training of the R. O. T. C.

Increasing interest in the training is indicated by the rapid improvement in drill during the past year, neatness of uniforms, and military bearing have given a very neat appearance to the cadets when appearing in uniform.

Under the capable leadership of Captain Baumeister and Sergeant Vondrasek, the unit has attained a total strength of over two hundred cadets, all more than eager to do their bit.

It is indeed a unit of which to be proud.

Calendar

SEPTEMBER

7—Back to that oasis of education in the desert of ignorance! To reassume the burdens of learning.

10—Programs and programs and more programs. New faces. New kids and new teachers. Confusion.

13—Things are getting settled.

14—The Tornado tornadoed and torned Lindbloom, 18-0. Sounds good!

17—From the appearance of the footwarmers, that ever present element in school life is here again—love! Ah, me.

19—We are informed that the monitor force still exists.

21—Things are happening in Miss Benscoter's 8:15 Senior English class.

22—Strike! Strike! Mass Meeting! Esh the orator.

23—Still strike! Meeting in East Side Park! Pictures in all the papers. Post-Tribune says: "Emerson's students stage comic opera attempt at strike"

25—Board of Education acts, meeting in Auditorium. Everyone talks. Pleasing, threats, promises, denials, defiance, etc.! Big Joe has a say.

27—All is well, oil is spread on the troubled waters. Everyone is back in school.

29—We defeat East Chicago, 19-6.

OCTOBER

3—First Matinee Dance.

5—The Hi-Y begins to initiate. Dolls and ribbons and bottles, etc.

7—The annual board is elected—so is Sam Chase and "Croftie" Yarrington. Congrats.

8—Mishawaka holds us 0-0. Avery is injured. Hard luck, gang!

14—This day according to the calendar was Wednesday, but according to the "F's" was report card day.

19—The Tornado gets real mad and blows all over Wabash, 33-0. Ernie Gardner acclaimed rival to Red Grange.

22—Beat Mooseheart! Fight, Yell!! Get a ticket!!!

26—Mooseheart came, and saw, and conquered. The team lost a hard fought game. Better luck next time.

27—Monthly tests. Quiet over all——

29—Hammond holds us 6-6. Will wonders never cease?

31—Hammond wins the eggfruit—and we get plenty of lectures on self-control, etc.

NOVEMBER

4—Big Band Dance.

7—Woe unto us. The mighty hosts of Froebel conquer, 14-22. But not always are the victors the conquerors.

9—Gloom over all. The lower hall looks like a section of a cemetery.

11—The gloom is slowly lifting, and after all, what's a game?

16—Waser takes a sixty-seven yard non-stop flight to become Lindy and defeats South Bend.

19—First call for the Norsemen.

23—Froebel becomes state champs, defeating Indianapolis, 77-0. Congratulations, Froebel, wait till next year.

25—Joe, Max and Red make all-state! Whoopie!

27—Football banquet! Congratulations, Elio!

DECEMBER

5—The Norsemen sail to their first "Big Fifteen" victory. Gee, the squad looks great!

9—Horrors! An eight hour monitor force! Absurd!! Where is our freedom?

14—The Norse subdue Whiting and Mishawaka. Hot glots!

17—There are rumors of a great Froebel squad!

23—East Chicago humbles our Norsemen! We should be bothered!

24—Christmas vacation!!!!

JANUARY

7—Beat Froebel!

8—Big Mass Meeting!

9—We beat Froebel like nobody's business. Oh boy, revenge is sweet!

12—The Board of Control election. Red and Carl, Drucilla and Ray, etc.

15—The eight hour monitor force becomes a reality. Ye Gods!

17—Hammond is subdued by a lopsided count.

20—First Board of Control meeting. Plenty of violators.

24—New monitor stars! Nice and shiny. Where's your pass?

25—Jefferson of Lafayette, represented by the Crow Bros., Inc., defeat us.

FEBRUARY

6—Plenty of snow. And cold!

9—More blizzard. Traffic blocked.

14—Mishawaka comes and bows to the Armory beaus—so they said. Of course our team doesn't count.

20—Our gym is opened! We defeat Valparaiso, 63-13. What a gym! No more excuses.

23—We beat Froebel again!!

27—East Chicago again beats us in a heart-breaker.

MARCH

3—The Sectional!

4—Emerson easily defeats Merrilville, got lots of fun. Big dance at Elks.

5—We beat Horace Mann, only to lose to Froebel! Gloom! East Chicago beats Froebel!

11—East Chicago wins the regional by defeating Valparaiso.

15—The school settles down to the old grind since all the excitement is over.

18—We are gently reminded that a rule exists about where we eat! Gently?

23—Monthly tests!

26—Seems as though spring is here. Sun shining. Grass green.

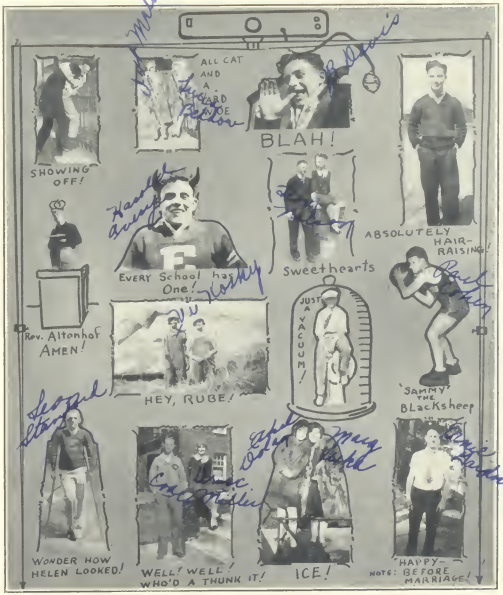

27—Snow and how!

APRIL

1—April fool's day came on Sunday, so the school is quiet.

4—Report cards.

Dances

BAND DANCE

Emerson's Concert Bands gave their third annual band party on December 9. The lower gymnasium was a pretty scene for the affair, decorated in Xmas colors. Sam Chase's orchestra furnished the music, and both young and old bandmen, ranging from 8 to ?? years, danced and were pleasingly entertained. Mr. and Mrs. Warren, followed by officers of the band, led the grand march. Along with the favors, music and games, came marvelous punch, which was enjoyed mostly by the "little fellows." It was rumored that this year's band party had surpassed any of the previous years.

SOPHOMORE DANCE

On the eve of January 21, the girls' gym was the scene of an outdoor dancing party, being decorated in blue and silver, the class colors. The blue being used as a background to represent the sky and the silver in the form of stars. It was a beautiful night both indoors and out. Sam Chase's orchestra furnished the music for the pretty affair. With Miss Newton as Class Sponsor, and with several good committees the dance was and could be only an assured success. The favors were in the forms of pencils in the school colors. Noise-makers, confetti, and caps also added to the amusement of the younger classmen.

R. O. T. C. DANCE

The cadets in the R. O. T. C., with the help of some of the high school girls acting as sponsors, gave an informal benefit dance at the K. of C. ballroom on February 10. Decorations were not needed as the beautiful ballroom is completely furnished, which is a "benefit" in itself when it comes to giving a dance. Frank Colling's orchestra furnished the music which could not be beaten. The favors and refreshments made the dance a complete success. It is said that the R. O. T. C. rather favor benefit dances, but you can't blame them when you consider the crowd that attended this first affair of that kind.

JUNIOR PROM

The first and only spring formal of the year was given in the Masonic Temple on May 19. And was it a grand success? Well, I'll say, and how? The Juniors always have tried to surpass the Seniors in giving a dance, and we all believe that this year they came very near doing just that. The grand march was led by Ross Bain, president of the class, and his partner. Miss Daniel was Class Sponsor, and it was through her and the committees who worked hard on the dance that it was made one of the best Junior Proms ever. The favors were attractive and seemed to please all attending. The orchestra furnishing the music was an out-of-town orchestra.

SENIOR FAREWELL

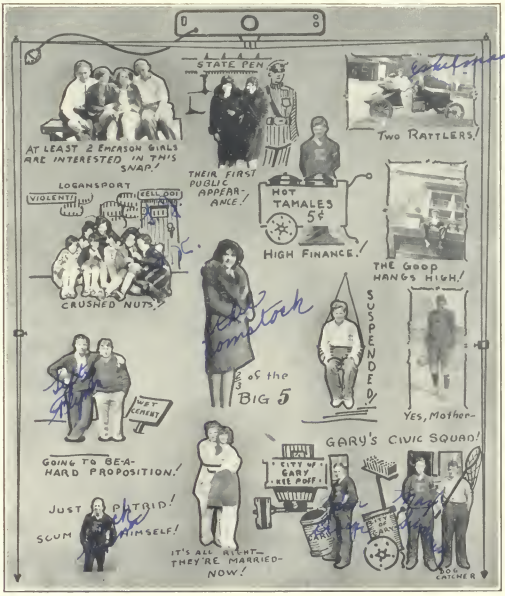

And, last but indeed not least, comes the dance given by the Class of '28 as their farewell to friends, teachers, Alma Mater or what have you? The dance this year was held at the Lake Front Pavilion on June 16. The dance was well attended by both graduating Seniors and members of next year's graduating class.

Mrs. Pickard has sponsored the Senior Class for many years and each year gives her help in making a bigger and better dance. The favors, orchestra and refreshments will not soon be forgotten. We believe this year's farewell was the very best yet.

MICHIGAN . . . AND THE STORM

Black, threatening clouds
Hanging low in the sky
The Bessemer flaming dull red
Against the black
Whirling sands spurred onward by a
Menacing wind from the Northwest
Sullen wastes of water sending white-caps
Dashing to the shore in abandoned fury
The eerie cry of a gull
Flung back from the lake
Ragged flashes of lightning
The ominous roar of thunder
Great, splashing drops of rain
Michigan and the Storm!

Can't study in the fall
Gotta play football;
Can't study in the winter,
Gotta play basketball;
Can't study in the spring,
Gotta play baseball;
Can't study in the summer,
Gotta girl.

Leon N.: "Have you heard how the automobile has lengthened life in the United States?"

Holiday: "Prevents over-exertion, I suppose."

Leon N.: "Not that so much, but it's cut down the deaths from old age about eighty per cent."

TO LAKE MICHIGAN

Thou sapphire lake
Which mirrors the day

And carries the sun
On a turbulent tray,

I love you at night
When your romantic Moon

Is a rippling banner
Brushing the dune.

WOODEN SOLDIERS

Wooden those soldiers, wooden their mail,
Tattered and torn by tempest and gale,
Stationary they stand;
Weird are the tales your crisp lips might tell,
Thou silent, though faithful old sentinel,
Of the golden duneland.

A COMPLIMENT

A compliment
Is a lovely
Thing----

A beautiful bird
Who always Brings

A golden thought
Each time he sings.
